

Tobacco Growers Vote

The members of the Marketing Association of tobacco growers will soon be called upon to elect directors to manage the business. After years of work the growers of tobacco have reached the critical stage in the plan of organizing. Vote for strong men of ability and standing who will uphold the farmers' interest in every step. The nominations for directors of this great organization will be presented to you for your votes. Try to elect the best man for the place if you want the best results.

The Second

Great interest throughout the entire tobacco belt of Virginia is being manifested in the election by organized tobacco growers, of delegates from 28 Virginia counties, who will in turn elect directors for the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Marketing Association.

Next week, when voting will begin, ballots and letters of direction relative to this election will be mailed to over 25,000 members of the Marketing Association within the State.

County chairmen and county agents of Virginia Tobacco counties met last week in Lynchburg and Richmond on succeeding days, where details and rules of the coming election were explained in full by M. O. Wilson, chairman of the Executive Committee and campaign manager for Virginia.

In accordance with plans formulated at the recent meeting of the organization committee in Raleigh, each signer will receive an official ballot bearing the names of suggested delegates and will mark and sign this ballot, depositing it in the ballot box at his county court house by noon of January 30th, or mailing his vote so as to reach the county chairman by that date.

The county chairman, together with county secretary and appointed poll holders will have charge of the various county elections and the chairman of each county will notify the list of delegates where to meet on February 2nd to elect the directors for the eight districts of Virginia.

On account of the fact that the board of directors will be elected on Feb. 2nd, the organization committee has ruled that no contracts will be received by them after that date, until the final decision as to whether further members will be accepted, is made by the new directors.

Large numbers of contracts continue to arrive at the Virginia office and according to the present plan all new members who join the Marketing Association before the closing of the polls on Monday noon, Jan. 30th, will have a vote in the election of directors.

Members of the Marketing Association are urged to bring neighbors who have neglected to sign the contract, to this election at their county seat, where they may sign contracts and obtain a ballot.

According to the latest dispatches from Kentucky the Kentucky Tobacco Growers Marketing Association has taken over 105 warehouses, in which the Association members are now marketing the crop of 1921.

The Government has decided to give one of the army trucks to each of the counties and our Board decided to strike while the iron was hot and they sent Mr. Hubbard Baird to Norfolk to bring back a truck for use on the roads of this county.

It is being told as a joke on a lady in this county that a man who is a semi-idiot came to her house and when she met him at the door instead of telling what he wanted he followed her in the house then she became frightened, and sent for the men folk out in the field and when they came past haste, they found the lady holding her gun on the man whom they at once recognized as the feeble minded young man from a neighbors house. She said it was the most strenuous time of her life when she stood there holding that gun on the man.

People who are beforehand got busy ordering a good supply of sugar last week and when the expected raise takes place it is likely to find many people with a supply on hand. The superintendent of a coal mine in West Virginia sent for a man from this county who has mined for years and told him to bring all the old time miners with him who wanted work.

It is said that the war tax has been taken off the Railroad tickets and also off of other things.

Hon John B. Boatwright in writing to me from his seat in the legislature sends his regards to his friends here.

The people living near St. Andrews school house and church have decided to start digging a well for use of both school and church, they propose to get the work done by voluntary labor by the men each one contributing so many days work.

Messrs. H. C. Glover, Willie Patterson and F. R. Moon are among those who have recently shipped tobacco to Lynchburg.

Mr. E. W. Hubbard and wife have come to the court house and are boarding at the Pearson hotel.

Mrs. J. D. McArthur leaves this week for her home at St. Paul, N. C.

Notice has been harvested but it was not very thick. There was a threat made to take a post office from a merchant because he was a democrat and he said that was all right his partner was a republican and he would get the appointment.

The burning of the dormitory at Blackstone Female Institute and then the burning of the Military school for boys there caused considerable loss to Buckingham boys and girls. Miss Connor, of Hillway, was one of the lady students there and Mr. Russell Moon Jr., was one of the boys there from this county.

It is truly remarkable how much more readily negroes who have some education will subscribe to a newspaper than white people.

Cattle in the northern part of the county have been making their living on blue grass up to this time and there has been no snow as yet to cover the grass up.

Turkeys for breeding purposes have been selling at $10 for the toms and $5 for hens. Dress goods have come down considerably lower than the knee and considerably lower in price.

Dr. Thomas Hugs Lacy filled his appointments at St. Andrews Emanuel churches on Friday and Sunday respectively and was looking much better than he did when he was here last month.

Judge George Jefferson Hindley will succeed himself a judge of this judicial circuit He is 84 years old.

A Card to Democrats
Actuated by a desire to render or the largest service that opportunity permits, I offer as a candidate for Congress from the Tenth Congressional District of Virginia, subject to nomination by the convention to be held in the city of Staunton at noon, February 14 1922.

I shall enter into no unseemly scramble for the nomination, nor seek to obtain it by abuse or reflection upon any of my present competitors. They are all men of the highest integrity and worthy of the honor.

Time will not permit me to see many of the voters in person nor, perhaps, to visit all of the counties in the district, so I take this means, among others, of notifying the citizens of my ambition to be honored by them and of my desire to serve.

Having resided all my life in the district, I feel that I am in full touch with its needs and in full sympathy with its wishes. For the last twenty years my home has been in Alleghany county, the center of great industrial activity, but a county that has not been honored with high office. Clifton Forge, the city of adoption is a stronghold of democracy, responding unflinchingly and loyally to every party call.

Should my candidacy meet with your approval, you will not only honor me, but will give deserved recognition to a section of the district that merits it from the standpoint of industrial development, wealth of resources, party loyalty and every other consideration that should have weight with the electorate.

F. W. KING

Importation of the Elephant.
The first instance of an elephant being brought to western Europe was in 867, when the Caliph Haroun al Rashid presented one to Charlemagne. It was not until 1265, however, that this well-known and sagacious animal went to England.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobacco used in Chesterfield are of finer quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.
